Wayne Mark Rooney was born on October 24, 1985, in Croxteth, Liverpool, England. From an early age, Rooney's talent on the field was hard to miss. He scored 99 goals for a local junior league team at age 9, catching the attention of a scout with the Everton Football Club, a franchise in the English Premier League. Rooney signed with Everton and spent the next several years. Rooney made his professional debut with Everton in August 2002. Two months later, he became the youngest-ever goal scorer in Premier League history. In 2002 Rooney captured the BBC Sports Young Personality of the Year award.

Despite his earlier affinity for his local pro club, in 2004 Rooney signed on with Manchester United after his new team paid Everton a transfer fee of roughly $48 million. The move was seen as treason by Everton fans, and when he later returned to play against his old club, he was roundly booed by his former supporters. Rooney, however, expressed no regrets about the change, and neither did United. In the 2006 Football League Cup, the quick-tempered playmaker, scored twice to lead his club to a 4-0 win over Wigan Athletic in the final. Over the next five seasons, Rooney steered United to four Premier League titles. He also helped his club win the 2008 UEFA Champions League and scored the winning goal in the 2008 FIFA Club World Cup.

In 2008, Rooney became the youngest player ever to play in 200 Premier League games. The following season he became just the 20th player in team history to score more than 100 goals for the franchise. Named 2010 PFA Player of the Year and FWA Footballer of the Year, Rooney needed only to help England achieve significant World Cup success to cement his status as an international icon.

Earthquake often happens around us. It brings great damages. An earthquake is hard to be predicted and it often makes lot victims.

Actually there are three kinds of earthquakes. These kinds of earthquakes are commonly base on the factor and geological area where the earthquakes happen. They are tectonic, volcanic and explosion.

Tectonic earthquake is most common one. This kind of earthquake happens while earth's crust rocks break because of the geological strength created by moving of the earth's plates.

A volcanic earthquake happens exactly with volcanic activity. During the volcanic earthquake happens, the volcano produces acidic lava, which dries quickly and blocks the top of the volcano. This makes no more magma can escape. Pressure starts to build up and eventually the acidic lava can no longer stand the pressure. So the volcano is free to explode. The pressure is released so fast that an earthquake is caused. A volcanic earthquake is usually kept within 10 – 20 miles of the volcano.

Explosion earthquake is the result of the collapse as a small earthquake occurring underground mines and caverns.
